

SANCTUARY CHOIR NOTES

From the director ...

It is so good to be back among you fine people this evening! It feels like we have not been together in quite a long time. Even as the snow came down during the day today,

I was confident that you would all make it to rehearsal this evening! Realizing that it is impossible to make-up or postpone an Ash Wednesday service, we are now almost a week into the season of Lent. I hope that you have begun listening to the New Testament each day! If you have not received a CD containing the New Testament in MP3 format, you may do so this evening.

Due to obvious time restraints in our worship services and Bible studies, we do not often hear several chapters of scripture read at once. There is something uniquely different about hearing the Word of God in narrative form. Some of the stories to us ... some of the stories make more them simply come to life! And while advantageous to meticulously study God's Word is revealed to us in new hear the stories of faith passed down tradition. As we continue our journey
